

Sell custom designed furniture anytime and anywhere

The myDesign online sales solution makes it easy to set up your own online store

Digital showroom, individual configurator, modern store system - and all this without any computer knowledge. With myDesign, imos offers a software solution especially for individual manufacturers who want to make their business fit for the future by presenting customers with customized furniture in the tradition of craftsmanship on the Internet. Because Internet trade is booming. More and more consumers are finding out about products and services online and placing their orders at the click of a mouse. Modern carpentry businesses are not letting the potential of these sales channels go unused, offering service around the clock - by letting the Internet do the work for them.

myDesign is particularly user-friendly thanks to the included construction kit system: a rule-tested catalog range for carcass furniture (living | kitchen | office), where materials, colors and fittings can be individually specified. Of course, you can also add your own designs and sales items. This means that myDesign is quickly ready for use. Interested parties now have the opportunity to study your assortment comfortably at home on their computer, tablet or smartphone, to individualize it according to their own ideas and to experience their desired furniture photo-realistically with all its functions. myDesign can be integrated into the existing website as an attractive store system or used as a planning, presentation and sales tool with your own company logo. In this way, craft businesses can digitalize their entire order and production process in line with Craft 4.0. myDesign is also compatible with the current imos iX product range. This means that manufacturing companies that use iX CAD/CAM can transfer the data generated in myDesign directly to the machine.
